

Chapter Twelve

Finishing Touches

Sidney and I love our Broken Sound home. We met so many nice people and we enjoy the club, the gym, and golf.

Sidney keeps busy with his investments and enjoys the computer which I keep my distance from. He has been running a Men's Club meeting every Tuesday. They discuss issues concerning the world, Boca, and Broken Sound. He writes a column in the newspaper once a month which everybody reads and loves. People meet him in a restaurant and praise him on the column. He is so wise and has a great sense of humor.

If you want to know more about Sidney, read my next book.

Thanksgiving 1990